Joseph

There are also several graves without tombstones, one of them probably being that of John Stump who in 1743 had warranted to him the tract of land on which that burial ground is located, & who is very likely the father of the John Stump buried there.

Associated with the afore-mentioned Stump burial ground, by reason of Stump & Klein intermarriage & similar religious belief (Brethren or Dunkards), there is a private (Klein) burial ground on the West bank of the Northkill Creek, about a mile northward of Bernville, Pa. The tombstones there show the following inscriptions:

Klein, Philip	June 17, 1742	-	May 9, 1815
Klein, David	Mar. 2, 1746	-	Jan. 28, 1814
wf.- Elizabeth Breneisen	Nov. 8, 1750	-	Aug. 4, 1827

d/o Philip
Stumb, Elizabeth	June 2, 1776	-	Apr. 25, 1854
w/o George Klein

There are also several other graves indicated by limestone markers.

Inscriptions from the tombstones in a private burial ground on what is locally known as the Dr. Deppen farm, about 3 miles south-eastward of Bernville, Pa., along the stage road leading from Bernville to Mt. Pleasant (Obold), Pa. The burial ground is a short distance south of the road & contains the remains of a number of the Roman Catholic faith.
